

Licensing Agreement Information

Thinking Matters is based in the United Kingdom and operates across the world. A list of where we and our partners work can be found here.

At Thinking Matters we have an absolute belief that anyone is capable of becoming a more effective thinker and learner.

We believe that good pedagogy is at the heart of this process. We believe in evidence. Accordingly our approach is centred around proven best practice in the field of cognitive education. At schools, our approach is proven to improve grade attainment. More importantly, it supports educators with a framework and tools to arm those they educate with the skills and behaviours to succeed in a fast changing world.

Committed to 21st Century Learning, the Thinking Matters Approach suits education systems worldwide. We have worked with government agencies as well as training organisations. For example, in Malaysia, Thinking Matters was a partner in the i-THINK project which aims to develop all Malaysian state schools (10,000) as thinking schools using our model. In Lithuania we are working closely with two Lithuanian training agencies, and now have a team of 6 National Trainers who are training new thinking schools. We are involved in many other partnerships worldwide.

From the enquiries we frequently receive from around the world it is clear that there is considerable interest in our approach and we are delighted to receive enquiries from organisations interested in entering into a partnership through a licensing agreement. In order to enter into a partnership with Thinking Matters, organisations should fulfil the following criteria:

- Invest in initial training in situ by one of Thinking Matter's global trainers.

Full details of the licensor's and licensee's responsibilities and obligations will be forwarded to interested parties. However in summary Thinking Matters will provide the following:
